FOREWORD

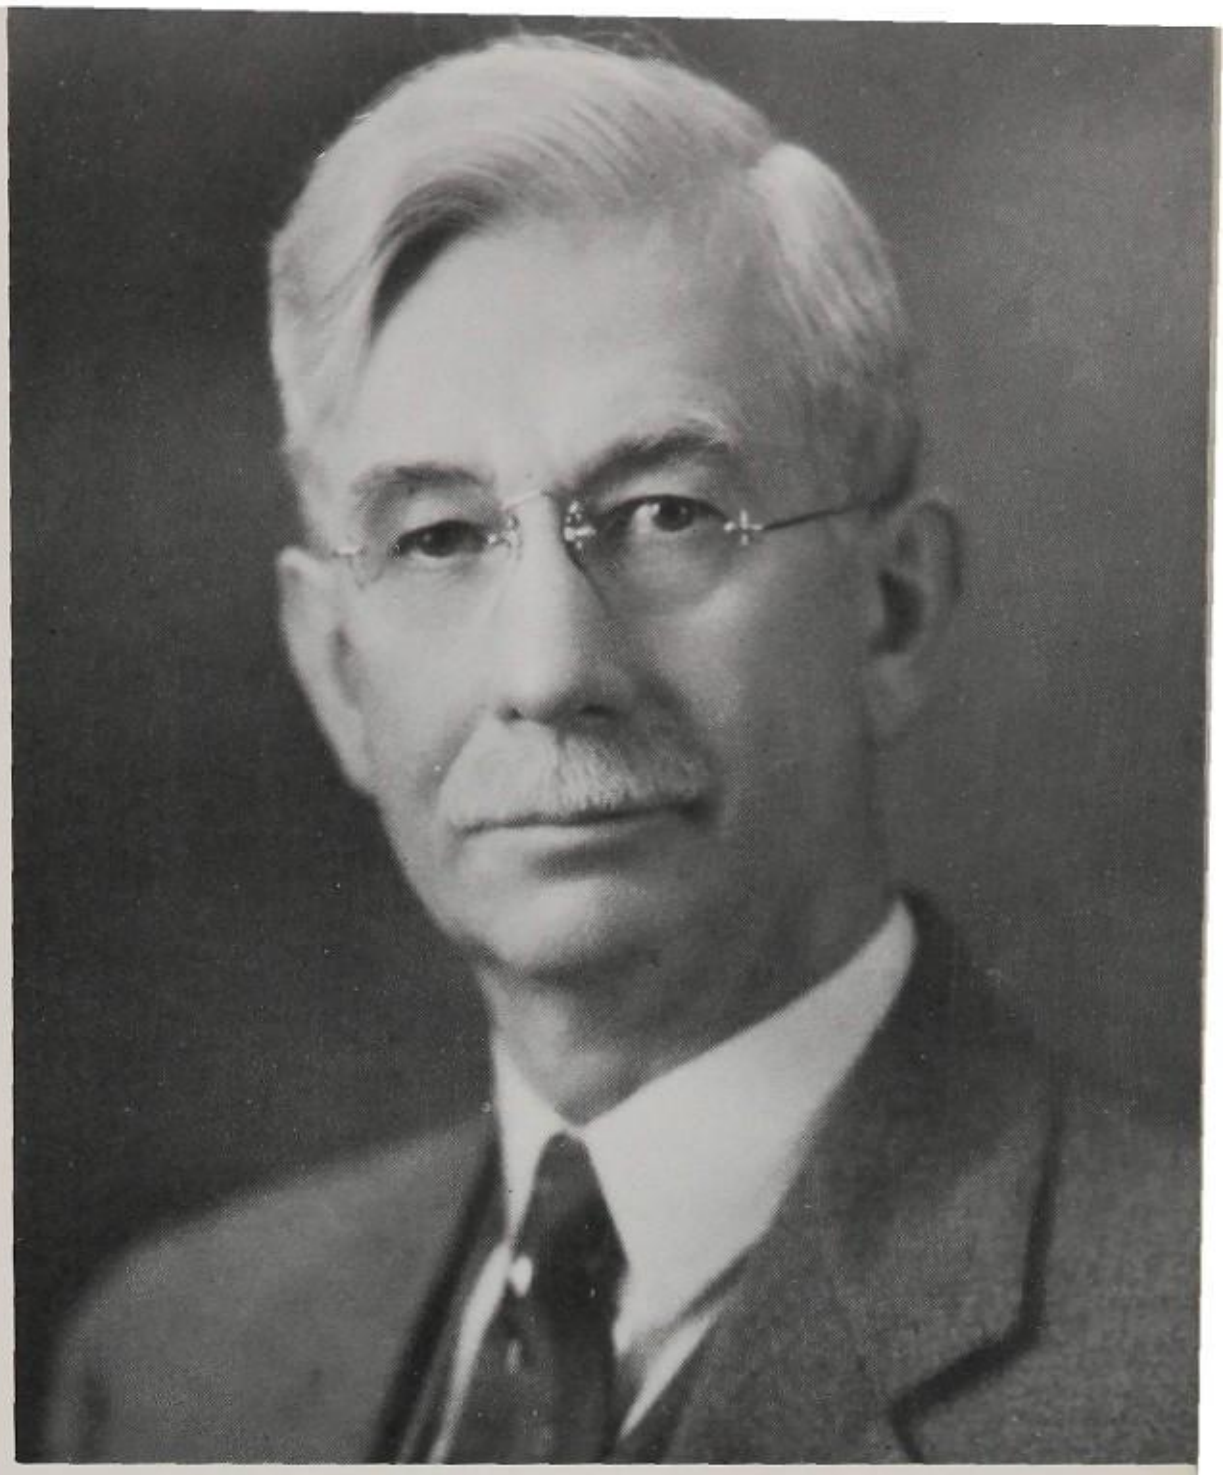
LIKE a tree striving upward toward the light, we of the 1933 Lincolnian staff have striven toward a higher goal in our desire to submit to you, the students of Lincoln High School and the citizenry of Tacoma, a better annual.

Viewed with a practical eye our subject represents the economic life-blood of the Pacific Northwest, a stream which flowing through Tacoma has built her reputation as the capital of America in one of the world's basic industries.

Seen through a poetic, or spiritual, eye there is no lyric more beautiful than the silent sentinels of our mountainsides. Who shall say that Honest Abe, the Railsplitter, after whom our school is named, did not learn from the trees amongst which he spent his youth, the indomitable qualities of character that lifted him from the obscure depths of the forest shadows to tower above his fellow men?

In choosing this theme, "Trees", we have included our school, city, and state in one objective, the protection and development of Washington forests. May they ever stand symbolic, in their upward growth, of America's western civilization.

THE EDITOR.



PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

TO THE CLASS OF '33

CLASS OF 1933:

"I will study and get ready; then maybe the chance will come." So said Abraham Lincoln when a young man. You have followed his example and are in a measure prepared to take advantage of opportunities that may come your way. To each member of the class I wish success and happiness. Success and happiness will come, however, not by chance but as a result of high endeavor. Purpose must be dominant.

A vision of possible achievement is necessary. Success is the accomplishment of a predetermined objective. Fix your ambitions on a worthy undertaking, press forward toward the mark, have faith in yourself. Then success in part, if not complete, and the joy of purposeful effort will be yours.

DEDICATION

Trees

I think that I shall never see
A poem lovely as a tree.

A tree whose hungry mouth is prest
Against the earth's sweet flowing breast;

A tree that looks at God all day,
And lifts her leafy arms to pray;

A tree that may in summer wear
A nest of robins in her hair;

Upon whose bosom snow has lain;
Who intimately lives with rain.

Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.

JOYCE KILMER.

MEMORIAL FOREST

How proud and happy Lincoln students will be if ever in the years to come they wander to a certain beautiful spot located within the Forest Reservation on the White River Highway near Enumclaw. Here they will behold a one-hundred-seventy-five-acre tract covered by Douglas fir trees and standing out against the whole, a monument with the words, "Memorial Forest of Lincoln High School, Tacoma."

Each spring the forestry classes, under the direction of Mr. Nessen, make the journey to the reservation; the third planting took place this spring, when forty girls and boys on April 15 set out two thousand five hundred young trees. They reported on their return that the trees planted on former trips have already begun to make a showing. The idea was first suggested in 1931 by the Washington Bi-Centennial Tree Planting Association, whose goal it is to have a tree planted for every person in the United States.

Growing year by year to a more stately height, they seem a fitting tribute with which to commemorate the two-hundredth anniversary of the birth of George Washington, who year by year grows to a more exalted height in the minds of the American people.

SENIOR CLASS

"ROWING, not drifting!" Those progressive words were chosen as a motto by the class of '33; and, with that inspiring thought always before them, they have completed three years of constructive and productive effort and have arrived at their goal, graduation.

The seniors of today, whose lives as active Lincolnites are nearly ended, took over the responsibilities of their predecessors as they progressed through Lincoln with such capability that, as the citizens of tomorrow, they will be sure to attain their share of success in the greater tasks lying ahead of them when they enter the world of affairs.

Among first-semester events of the class, perhaps the most outstanding was the impressive "Pirate Prom", which will long be remembered for its individuality and color. Another completely successful affair was the class play, Honor Bright. Concluding the social calendar, the annual banquet came as a fitting finale to a term of many fine achievements.

The work of an efficient group of officers, with the co-operation of Miss Adams as class adviser, has been a big factor in the success of these events and of the year as a whole.

JUNIOR CLASS

Upon the shoulders of the members of the class of '34, the present juniors, will fall the responsibility of leadership in student activities during the '33-'34 term; and the successful termination of their second year points to still greater progress before they are ready to end their high school career. By their energetic and whole-hearted participation in every phase of school life the juniors have prepared themselves to step into the leading roles of student endeavor at Lincoln, and have truly been "Forging ahead, not lagging behind," in the words of their motto.

Such organizations as the band and orchestra, Honor Society and other clubs, and all athletic teams received the enthusiastic support of these Lincolnites. Other services of members of this class include invaluable assistance along the line of student work in office, library, locker rooms, and attendance checking.

That the class chose wisely in its selection of officers is shown by the able manner in which the group of junior executives, aided by Miss Cunningham as adviser, has guided the class through a season full of such enterprises as their unique and original "Technocratic Prom" and a number of interesting assemblies.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

JUST as timber is brought to the mill from the forests to be shaped and polished into finished products, so do the sophomores come to Lincoln High School from their different intermediate schools. The adaptation and co-operation that these students show in their new surroundings indicate that they will be quickly molded into an advanced state similar to that of the sturdy timbers which came from the mill.

The sophomores systematically organized their class and elected a group of very capable officers, to whom much credit for the success of the class must be given, as well as to Miss Jessie Lilly, their adviser. An intense interest in school affairs on their part was shown by the efficient way they took over their share of club work and by the outstanding showing made in other extra-curricular activities in which they participated. Athletics were also entered enthusiastically by the sophs. The success of these is sure to continue under their leadership.

The manner in which the members of the class of '35 have come through their first year shows that as junior and senior classes in the next two years they will prove capable successors to the groups which have preceded them.

ADMINISTRATION

WORKING willingly and placing our welfare above all other interests, our administration strives to aid us in making the most of the unlimited opportunities which are offered us during our brief stay in these halls of learning.

Through the industrial, home economics, and commercial courses our instructors help the large majority of us to prepare for that task which we must assume after graduation, the making of a living. In industrial and commercial courses, boys and girls alike receive such instruction as is necessary for their success in fields of industry and business, and some are prepared by home economics courses for management of the home. For those students who wish to continue their education in higher institutions of learning, instruction is offered in fine arts courses.

But, strangely, it is not until we become seniors and our need for assistance in the task of acquiring an education is lessened, that we begin to observe and appreciate the helping hand of these older "Loyal Lincolnites". How much simpler we could make their task if we would but interpret their efforts, not as attempts to reveal our lack of knowledge, but as sincere endeavors to help us meet and overcome obstacles which may confront us.

THE motivating energy of a great tree pulses through the heart to its many branches. So the activities of the student body have been controlled by the council, acting as a judicial body in co-operation with the faculty and higher administration of school life.

Striving under the handicap of numerous changes in its membership, the nucleus of Lincoln High School's activities, social and otherwise, has functioned to advantage for the past year.

Besides the providing of activities between the different athletic seasons, the handling of student body business, and promotion of school presentations, the council has placed a large permanent sign on the tract of land known as Lincoln's Memorial Forest. Many necessary changes were also discussed thoroughly and adjusted in the school constitution.

Faculty representatives, Miss Oleson and Mr. Turner, acting in the capacity of advisory board along with Principal Meddins, aided greatly in the solution of difficult problems.

POEMS are made by fools like me, but only God can make a tree." With these immortal words ever before them as an inspiration and a guidance, the 1933 Lincolnian staff has endeavored to publish an annual which its owners will keep always as a treasured possession, not only for the memories it will keep alive, but for the beauty of the volume and its workmanship.

Class Play

RIPPLING, spontaneous laughter, smiles and grins of amusement greeted the semi-annual production of the Seniors' class play, Honor Bright, a three-act comedy written by Meredith and Kenyon Nicholson and presented December 9 and 10 in the auditorium.

The jolly plot was concerned with the activities of Honor Bright, who, when selling books to help pay her way through college, wanders into the Barrington home. The only son of the family, Richard, has become engaged to a chorus girl, Tot Marvel. Tot, who is supposed to arrive at the Barrington's, fails to appear, and, as his aunt and uncle have stopped off on their way to Europe to see her, Richard in desperation persuades Honor to take Tot's place. To make matters more complicated Tot arrives in the midst of the impersonation. From that time on the characters move from one mirth-provoking difficulty to another, but the final laugh is one of satisfaction in the appropriate clearing up of all trouble.

The leads were ably taken by Edith Orton in the title role, who carried herself with composure through the several embarrassing situations into which she was plunged, and by Harold Duncan, as Richard Barrington, who was anything but composed during the exciting events of the drama. Nano Murray, as Mrs. Lucy Barrington, was especially pleasing in the dramatic delivery of her role as was William Skaugset, who portrayed the part of the Rev. James Schooley. George Johnson, as the butler, was equally good. The golf of Edgar Dickson, as Bishop Carton, caused considerable humor as did his many quotations which so annoyed his wife, played by Betty Miller. The tempestuous scenes staged by Florence Sheehan, as Tot Marvel, and by Gilbert Wojahn, as Bill Drum, the press-agent, caused considerable mirth.

The entire cast was an able one, and Miss Lingenfelter, director, is to be congratulated.

Opera

BEAUTIFUL voices and lovely dancing against a background of rich costumes, colorful scenery, and delightful lighting effects all combined to make Balfe's opera, The Bohemian Girl, presented March 23, 24, and 25 by the glee clubs and orchestra, one of the outstanding features of the school year.

Long to be remembered by the full house that greeted each performance are the outstanding song hits, "The Heart Bowed Down," "Bliss Forever Past," and "Then You'll Remember Me." When the curtain switched softly to on the final scene, a story had been enacted which centered around Count Arnheim's daughter, Arline, who had been rescued from an infuriated stag when she was six years old by Thaddeus, a Pole. The night of the rescue Arline is kidnapped by Devilshoof, chief of a gypsy band and Thaddeus' friend. For twelve years Arline and Thaddeus lived with the gypsies, and, as the year go by, form a deep attachment for each other. However, due to the jealousy of the Gypsy Queen, who also loves Thaddeus, Arline is accused of stealing a jewelled medallion and is brought for trial to Count Arnheim, who recognizes her as his long-lost child. As a fitting conclusion Thaddeus reveals his true rank, and the Count consents to his marriage with Arline.

Edwin Scott as Thaddeus, put on his usual highly commendable performance while Georgia Sayers, who carried the title role Thursday and Friday nights, and Pauline Watts, who carried it Saturday night, played Arline in a most convincing and pleasing manner. Count Arnheim was played by William Skaugset, who excited the admiration of his audience with his rich baritone and his dignified manner. Wanda Kurpieski as the Gypsy Queen was outstandingly good in the dramatic presentation of her role as was Elmer Olsen, chief of the gypsies.

Much credit for the success of the production is due Mrs. Goheen and those faculty members and students who assisted her.

Glee Clubs

HARMONY at Lincoln, when divided into its separate parts, equals the Girls' Glee Club plus the Boys' Glee Club; and the evidence that this is true is to be found in the many successful productions which these combined organizations have presented.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Goheen, assisted by Robert Dezell, the forty-five girls and forty-seven boys gave the Messiah at Christmas time, The Bohemian Girl in March, contributed many lovely numbers to our assemblies throughout the year, entertained as individual units on the Back-to-School-Night program, and will sing for Commencement. The boys presented a separate project, the operetta for the "Band Frolic". A Girls' Quartet was chosen in April and entertained on several occasions. Ora Mills is accompanist for the Girls' Glee Club, and Elma Foreman for the Boys'.

Debate

MR. CHAIRMAN, Honorable Judges, Worthy Opponents"—How often Lincoln debaters have said this can only be indicated by the extensive program in which they have participated during the season culminating in the Lincoln-Stadium meet, March 16. Edgar Dixon, Eva May Scatchard, and Hinton Blaisdell made up this team; and beneficial returns resulted from their exhaustive study of the state question, Resolved: That Approximately One-Half of All State and Local Revenue Should Be Derived From Sources Other Than Tangible Property.

This season saw the close of decision debates at Lincoln. Mr. Allison is coach.

SENIOR BAND

LINCOLN hearts beat faster, and Lincoln feet grow lighter when the senior band heralds the student body to an assembly with its stirring martial music.

Beside playing for numerous assemblies, the band gave its successful and novel "Band Frolic" in January, and has produced one of the liveliest pep bands ever to play at Lincoln athletic events. In their sound-proof room, on the fourth floor, classes are held every day with Mrs. Goheen directing and with Robert Dezell as student assistant. This musical group has as its officers Donald Payne, president; Wally Potucek, vice president; and Charles Rancipher, secretary.

Johnson, B. Sulser.

SENIOR ORCHESTRA

HEARING beautifully played selections from the world's greatest composers is no novelty to Lincoln students who have been so royally entertained by the senior orchestra during the past year.

The orchestra, under the direction of Mrs. Goheen, has gone from one triumph to another, playing for assemblies, for Back-to-School Night, between acts of the class play, accompanying for the opera and the Messiah, and for the Saengerbund, a German male chorus. Officers of the orchestra are Lewis Garlick, president; Elma Foreman, vice president; Dorothy Panter, Evelyn Syverson, librarians; and George Johnson, concert master.

Stage Crew

STEADY perseverance and good workmanship have characterized the labors of the stage crew ,who have contributed so largely in their way to the success of Lincoln activities.

With Mr. Turner as adviser, the stage crew has built modernistic scenery and a new cyclorama for the opera, scenery for the class play, and made decorations for the proms, besides accomplishing odd jobs which they have done for other organizations. In their workroom beneath the stage one can find Ollie Aveldson, Robert Prescott, Wallace Dean, Glen Johnson, Donald Lewis, and Clair Hanson always ready to lend a helping hand.

Senior-Junior Prom

WHAT a predicament! A desert island, bold bad pirates, and a film company stranded in their midst. How the film company, by captivating the pirates with their tragic farce, saved themselves from the terrifying fate which these pirates had in store for them was the amusing theme of the Auditorium act of the Senior-Junior prom January 20.

With pirates and film company leading, the audience was ushered to the gymnasium, which was decorated in black and white with Mickey Mouse silhouettes; and an evening of dancing, interspersed with pirate numbers, was begun.

Band Frolic

YELLOW light in an otherwise darkened auditorium, turning to deep gold the instruments upon which the band played, illuminated the scene on the occasion of the annual performance of the band, called this year the "Band Frolic" and given in January on Friday, the thirteenth.

The music, directed by Mrs. Goheen, was interspersed with novelty dances and a boys' operetta. It was followed by a dance in the gymnasium as the concluding feature of the evening's entertainment.

Messiah

GOWNED in choir robes of black and white, a chorus consisting of one hundred two girls and boys from the glee clubs, accompanied by a select orchestra numbering twenty-nine, presented on the evening of December 21, in the auditorium, George Frederick Handel's oratorio, Messiah.

The entertainment, under the supervision of Mrs. Goheen, was a complimentary affair given in appreciation of the hearty support which the music department always receives for its productions. This is the second year that the Messiah has been presented at Lincoln, and it is hoped this presentation may come to be an annual event.

Yell Leaders

G-R-R-R-R-R-R-R-R Lincoln! Lincoln High! With this old favorite and the several new yells which our livewire yell leaders, Herbert Nordlund and Rollo Van Slyke, originated, an excited, cheering crowd more than once instilled pep into a Lynx team and sent it forward into the game with renewed zest, secure in the knowledge that its fellow Abes were behind it. Mr. Swarm acted as adviser for the pep promoters.

Santa's Twins

SCHOOL bells and rain took the place of sleigh bells and snow; but, even so, Lincoln students spread the Christmas cheer in their characteristically whole-hearted manner.

As a culmination of the annual Christmas drive, Santa's Twins, Anita Ball and Viola Hynes, delivered food, clothing, and toys to seventy-five needy families. A matinee dance, held in the boys' gymnasium with a toy as the admission price, was an outstanding feature of the drive, attracting many students.
The move was sponsored by The Lincoln News.

Sophomore Mixer

DIXIES for refreshments, a grand march to herald the hour's dancing, and an air of enjoyment hovering over the four hundred attending accomplished the purpose of the Sophomore Mixer, held in the boys' gymnasium December 16. The promotion of a better acquaintance among the sophomores was the purpose.

William Proby, class president, opened the Mixer with an address of welcome. Refreshments were served by Betty Evanson, chairman of the refreshment committee, and Miss Jessie Lilly, class adviser. Warren Margrath was in charge of the music.

Lincoln Print Shop

BECOMING more and more a necessary factor in the life of Lincoln is the Lincoln Print Shop, now nearing the close of its third successful year. The boys in their shop, which is equipped with the mechanical devices used for printing, made programs and tickets for the opera, class play, Messiah, and proms. They printed Radio Club call cards, targets for the Rifle Club, numerous signs for school use, material for class-room work, and yell booklets during football season. News of their work spread and resulted in both Stewart Intermediate and Central School seeking their services. These busy boys are Charles Fenn who is the executive, George Sharples, Delbert Devish, Richard Billings, and Everett Haislip. Mr. Chryst is their adviser.

Senior Banquet

IN the spring a Senior's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of——" No, you're wrong, the Senior Banquet. This year proved to be no exception, and the evening of May 25 found the upperclassmen assembled in the cafeteria, with an appetite that boded ill to the chicken, fruit, vegetables, and cake and ice cream on the menu.

The Class motto, "Rowing, not drifting," was carried out in the speeches given by members of the class; the decorations followed the spring idea.

Junior-Senior Prom

TECHNOCRATS! Robots! A new deal for the Cabinet! "What's this?" asks a startled but delighted audience on viewing the Auditorium act of the Junior-Senior prom, May 12. Their answer appeared in the working out of A Technocrat's Mad Moment in which, with the help of tin milkmaids and tin soldiers, the Cabinet was enabled to accomplish something.

Following this act, the audience was invited to a dance in the gymnasium. Here they found the room decorated in geometrical figures, and the modernistic theme further carried out in specialty numbers given during the dance.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

YAKIMA—The Yakima Herald described Lincoln's team as one which out-fought, out-blocked, out-tackled, and out-charged any team that Yakima has ever met. The game ended in a 6-6 tie with Nace plunging over the line for the Abes' touchdown. However, the Railsplitters thrilled the spectators with the pigskin on Yakima's one-yard marker but failed to convert. Yakima out-weighed Lincoln heavily on the line, but the weight disadvantage was more than made up by the spirit and fight shown by the Tacoma team.

HOQUIAM—In the last three minutes of a game that was played in a downpour of rain, Hoquiam shoved over a touchdown to win 7-0 from Lincoln in one of the hardest fought battles of the season. The Grays Harbor eleven used an end around play which gained them their touchdown. Lincoln threatened to score in the second quarter, but a heavy Hoquiam forward wall held them for downs on the six-yard line.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

THANKSGIVING DAY GAME—That was a thriller of thrillers! Lincoln once more proved her right to the city football title by beating Stadium 12-6. Largely through their passing attack, Stadium gained more first downs than the Railsplitters, but the passing combination of Miller to Smith proved disastrous to the Tigers for it resulted in two touchdowns and victory for Lincoln. Those who played their last game for our school were George Nace, Jess Dawkins, Paul Beekman, Elmer Olson, Hardwick Smith, Ed Broz, Lenny Brunstad, Sammy Matousek, and Bob Prescott.

"Collectively, my team was as good as any I have ever coached," asserted Al Hopkins, Lincoln's dynamic football mentor, when asked what he thought of his varsity squad. "We lacked the experience and outstanding players that I have had in former aggregations, as well as weight, but these deficiencies were made up by excellent team work and good hard-fighting qualities predominant in this year's team." The line averaged 160 pounds and the backfield 150.

Reserve Football

EACH year, due to the large number of football aspirants, Coach Hopkins selects an experienced letterman who is himself ineligible for participation in the sport to train the reserve squad. Emanuel Srsen, a former all-city tackle, was given the honor; and the results were so highly satisfactory that the second team was one of the two Lynx ball-clubs to defeat Stadium this year. In the first game between the two schools, a spectacular piece of broken-field running and team work was exhibited when Dominic Grabinski, fleet Abe back, ran 60 yards to a touchdown only to have the ball brought back as a result of a clipping penalty.

The reserves' ranks were made up largely of inexperienced sophomores who through the school of hard knocks (which means scrimmaging against the first team) showed their improvement by doing creditable battle against the South Bend first team. This game, though won by the latter with the unusual score of 33-18, contained a fine display of hard-fought "heads up" football, according to Coach Srsen.

Jayvee Football

As the result of a long pass that was completed in the latter part of the fourth quarter in the first Stadium-Lincoln Jayvee game, the Bengals retained the Intermediate football trophy. However, the second and third games were scoreless ties in which both teams threatened to break into the lead several times. Particularly in the last game, the Lynx drove deep into Tiger territory, advancing the ball to the four-yard line but were finally repulsed, losing the ball on downs.

Heinie Sielk coached the Jayvees again this year. He stated that the past season was the most successful one while he has had charge of this team. A very noticeable improvement in the squad was apparent as the season advanced, according to Mr. Sielk. The scoring was somewhat restricted on both sides of the ledger, as Lincoln made the limited total of 19 points while their opponents merely gained 12.

Those who earned letters were Bud Andrews, Adrian Beletski, Ed Cole, Bill Dolan, Vic Gawley, Fred Heany, Al Hennefer, Al Jacobs, Antone Pannek, Don Payne, George Pollock, Jerry Turner, Bob Weaver, and Morris Whitworth. Andrews, Payne, Heany, Gawley, and Pannek were picked on the mythical all-city Jayvee team in their respective positions.

Midget Football

LINCOLN'S midgets bowed to the Stadium babes for the first time since Howard Nessen has acted as coach for the little railsplitters. They relinquished the Harold Lloyd-Mildred Davis trophy, which for the past five years rested in Lincoln's trophy case. Although the Lynx lost two games to their ancient rivals, each by a 6-0 score, Coach Nessen considers the past season a fairly successful one. In the second Stadium-Lincoln game, the Lynx line-up was without the services of seven regulars, but the "Lincoln Fights" spirit came to the front, and the Bengal team won only after a very strenuous tussle.

The defensive strength of this mighty little team is shown by the fact that only 12 points were scored against them all season, while they succeeded in totaling 33. The midgets finished their season in fine style, with a surprising 13-0 victory over a much heavier Puyallup reserve team. The boys who earned awards were Don Burt, Ed Jewett, Eugene Caddey, Ray Huff, Dave Johnston, Ocky McKnight, Bob Trimble, Don Johnson, Max Paty, Ralph Rose, Grenville Porter, Charles Mazza, Clyde Forsythe, Wally Dean, and Henry Christian. Ray Huff, Don Burt, and Ed Jewett were chosen on the all-city midget team.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

In the 1928-29 basketball season, under the coaching of O. F. Hite, Lincoln won the city championship. Four long years went by. Now, Lincoln under the leadership of Heinie Sielk has again brought home another city basketball title. Strange to say, the Lynx finished in last place in the Southwest Washington league, winning only one game. This poor showing might be explained by saying that the Railsplitters did not click until the latter part of the season, and their first four games were Southwest league contests.

Against Stadium, Lincoln played inspired ball, winning three out of the four games held between the two schools. The last Abe-Tiger battle, held in the Lincoln gym, proved to be one of the most thrilling games ever to be played by prep-school teams. Lincoln played almost perfect defensive ball in the first half, leading by an 18-8 score. In the second half Stadium came to life and led 27-23. With but three minutes to play, Pollock, rangy Abe center, tied things up by sinking two beautiful field goals, and Miller cinched the game by dropping in another "swisher" in the last 30 seconds of play.

Coach Sielk used different combinations of players throughout the year, but the one that proved most successful was composed of Pollock, center; Miller and McBeath, guards; Staples and Gibson, forwards

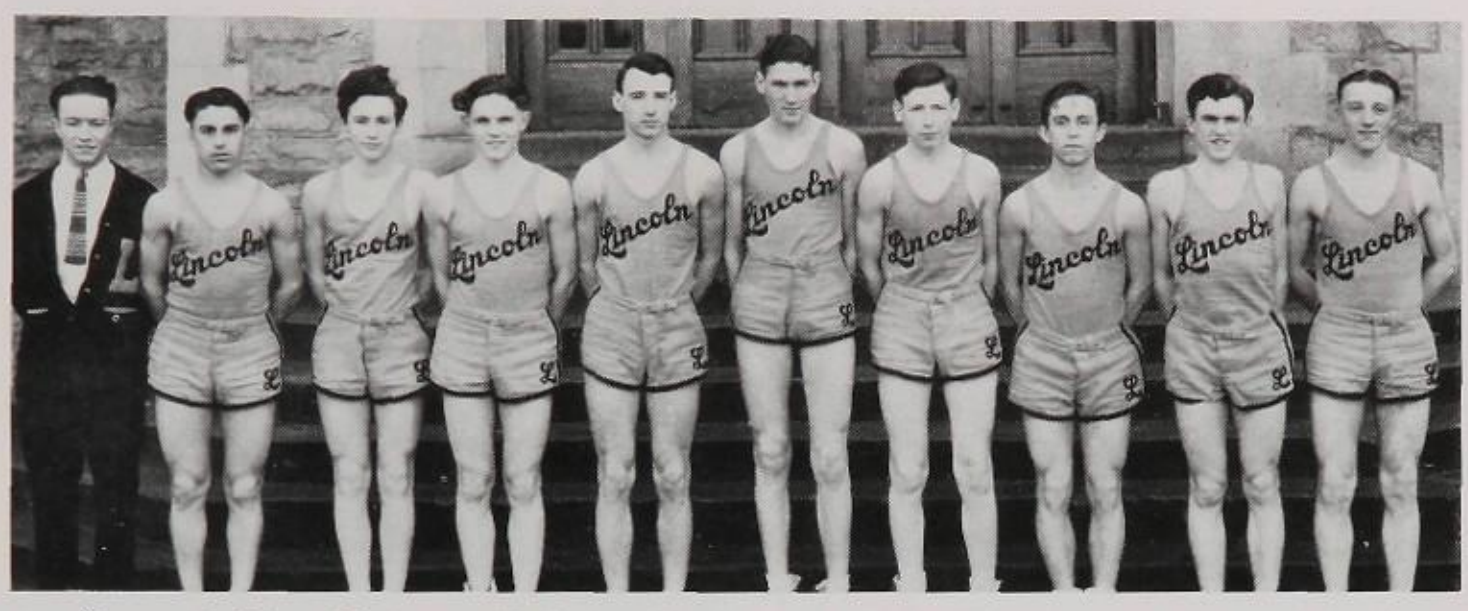
Reserve Basketball

LINCOLN'S Reserve team acted as a means of testing inexperienced players as well as reviving the interest of first string members. Heinie Sielk coached this team as well as the first string casaba artists this year; and although the squad, on the whole, enjoyed a fairly successful season, the continual changing of the quint members hampered the seconds in establishing a more impressive record.

In the daily practices against the varsity squad, the Reserves usually displayed a brand of ball that was equal and sometimes superior to their more experienced opponents. However, in a scheduled contest this was not always true. The "scrubs" lost more games than they won, but in all their contests they were always a scoring threat, and the score board generally told of a close battle.

The Railsplitters made their best showing against the Olympia seconds, winning both frays by close margins. In the one Stadium-Lincoln contest, the Bengals were the victors 29-25 in a hectic game which saw the lead change hands several times before the final whistle put the game away for the Northenders. Charles Dosskey, Ray Miller, Herbert Nordlund, Maurice Robinson, Jerry Turner, and Bob Wegsteen make up the list of those eligible for the second team awards.



Manager C. Mazza, N. Ananias, W. Brebner, R. Layton, D. Johnson, W. Geehan, G. Johnson, G. Porter, M. Holt, F. Horst.

Midget Basketball

FROM the standpoint of games won and lost, Lincoln's Midget basketball team made a none too successful showing this year. However, the baby Lynx were handicapped in that they started turning out six weeks after the other casaba candidates had commenced practicing. This delay was due to certain conditions which, for awhile, made it seem as though Lincoln would have no midget team at all.

Mr. Frank O'Neel, midget coach, taught his charges a type of basketball that was based to a large degree on the difficult Meanwell System, which is characterized by short passes and close-in shots at the basket. The Lynx were really "on" just once during their season, and that was against the Bellarmine cubs. In that game the O'Neel-coached quint clicked in such a fashion that no doubts were left as to the outcome of the contest by the end of the first half.

Mentor O'Neel stated that he was satisfied with the showing his boys made this last season. "Friendship and co-operation which result in character building is more valuable than the results of a score," asserted Mr. O'Neel.

Wrestling

WRESTLING again proved to be one of Lincoln's strong points in the field of sports, for the 1933 team of bone-crushers won every match on their schedule. Their highly successful season was climaxed by a hard-fought meet with Stadium which the Abes won by an 18-13 score. The first match of the year was against Centralia which resulted in a walk-away for the Lincolnites, who won 58-0. Olympia was next in line and succeeded in making a better showing although they lost 23-8.

The members of the first team were "Snooks" Morris, Duane Brigham, Verne Reed, Bob Gangidino, Gene Caddy, Fred Heany, Al Hennefer, Chuck Semancik, and Ocky McComber.

Track

TRACK is Lincoln's most important spring sport. At this date of publication, no meets have been held with outside schools, but daily practice has brought out some promising men for the cinder and field sport. Art Tuel, crack miler, is captain of the Abes this year. Plenty of competition will be afforded Captain Tuel by Scrutin and Flowers who are coming up rapidly. In the sprints Brunstad and Siler can be depended upon to get points in almost any high school meet. Allen, Prescott, and Gentili are showing well in the high and broad jumps. Other men who are producing fine work are Peusa, Olson, Heany, Gallagher, Holm, Grabinski, Shank, Ed Olson, Berglund, Sabutis, Artoe, Graham, Holt, Sipe, and Conley.

Faculty Coaches

LINCOLN High School's athletic teams of 1933 can well be proud of their records. With three major city championships won and one more yet to be run off, a highly successful year has come to an end. Although some of the Lynx teams did not win their respective titles, the clean sportsmanship and fight displayed at all times by the athletes participating reflected the fine type of instruction that Lincoln's coaches have given their squads. Those who handled the various sports were Miss Helen M. Clarke, girls' sports; Alfred E. Hopkins, Varsity football and track; W. Henry Sielk, Varsity basketball, Intermediate football, and tennis; Frank W. O'Neel, wrestling, swimming, and Midget basketball; Howard A. Nessen, Midget football; and Frank A. Erspamer, golf.

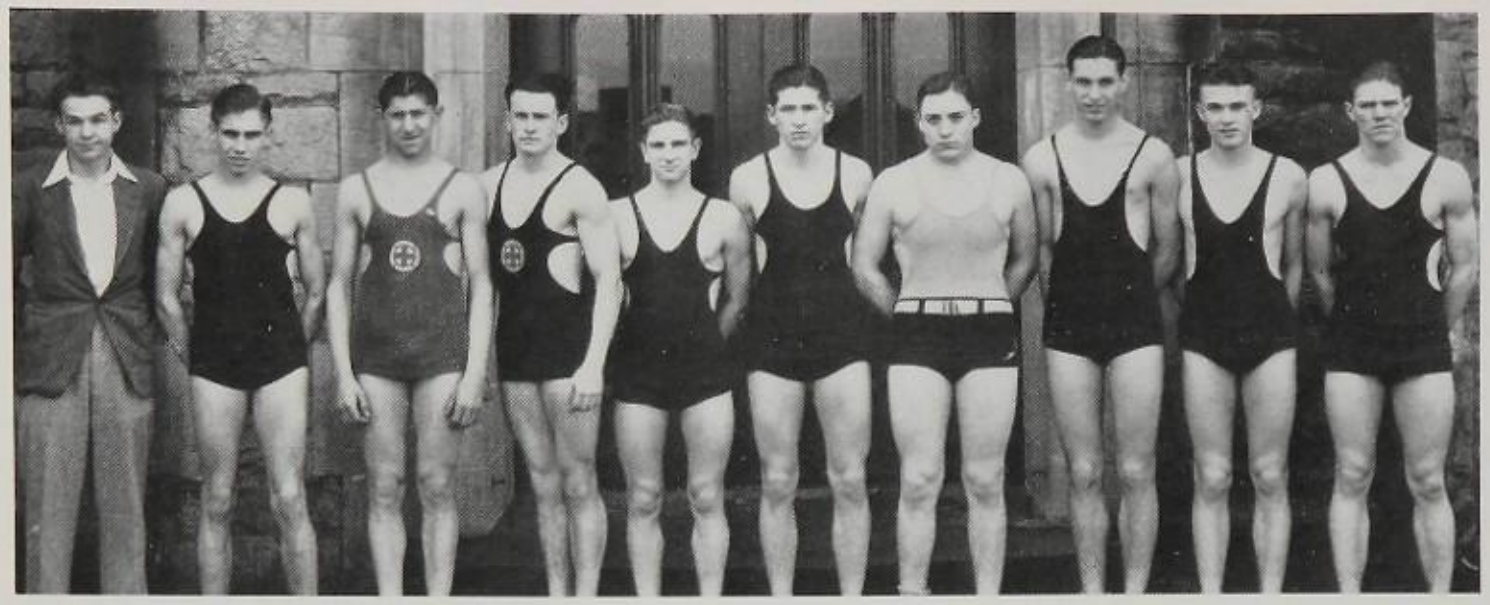
Boys' Student Leaders

THIS group of boys is fast showing its influence among the students at Lincoln as a result of the high standards and ideals that motivate it. The purpose of the club is two-fold in that the members help Mr. Frank O'Neel, physical education teacher and adviser of the organization, with the overcrowded gym classes, teaching them individually the many different kinds of athletics and benefiting by this arrangement because they gradually acquire qualities of leadership and independence themselves. The club holds meetings in the evening and have programs of music as well as serious talks by prominent men of the city and state.

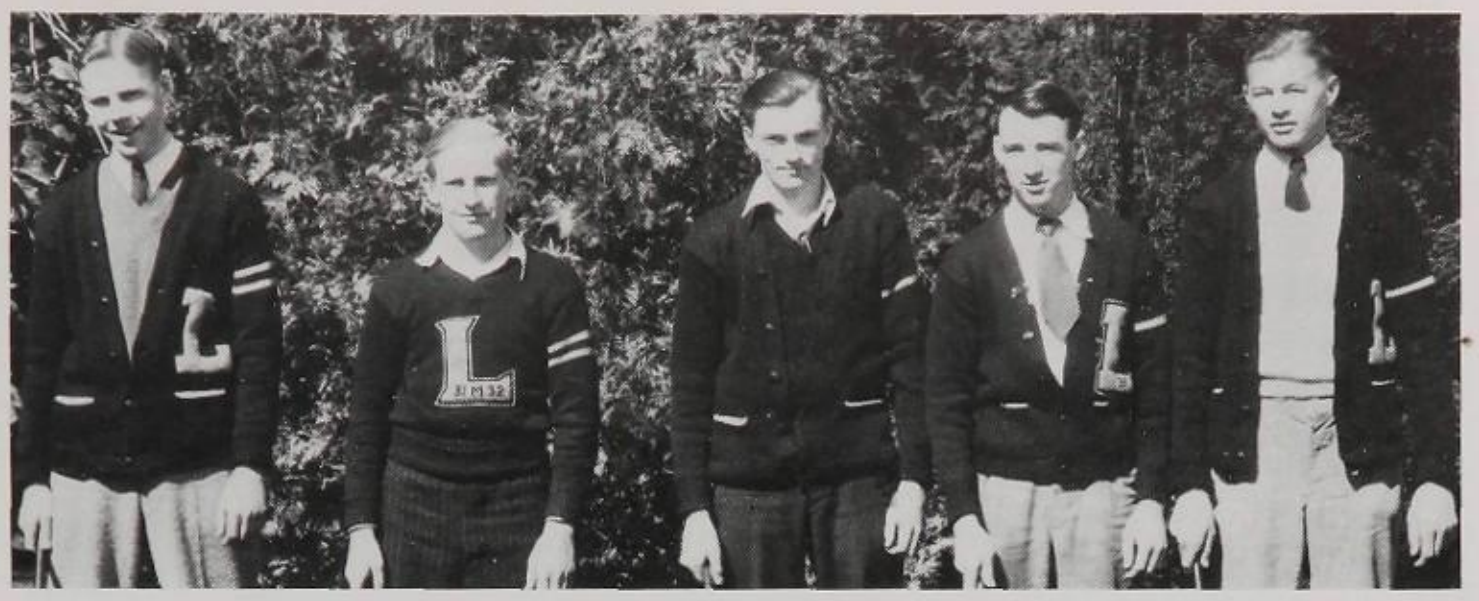


C. Jones, B. Wootan, M. Cusato, B. Vandenburg, G. Caddey, A. Hennefer, J. Dawkins, G. Pollock, H. Johnson, A. Beletski.

Swimming

LINCOLN'S 1932 swimming season proved to be quite successful although the mermen participated in only three meets. The Railsplitters met Aberdeen in a home-and-home contest, winning both times. Against Stadium, the Abes were not so successful but they showed plenty of fight and willingness to compete.

This year's team promises to be a well-balanced aggregation. Pollock, Caddey, Johnson, Panneck, and Cusato are the returning lettermen; and, with some fine-looking material in Beletski, McMennamin, Crandel, Hennefer, Wootan, and Thorsen who are practicing faithfully for a chance to represent their school this season, Lincoln should have a team hard to defeat.



H. Gustafson, H. Nordlund, L. Staples, D. Johnson, S. Bacior.

Golf

WINNING the city championship and losing only one match to Olympia is the imposing record set up by Lincoln's Golf team of 1932. The Stadium match, which included two meetings, was especially close. The North-enders won the first contest 9½-8½, and the Abes took the second one by a slightly wider margin of 10-8. The total number of points of each match gave the Lynx the crown. Barge Pease took the school championship for the second time.

Louie Staples and Don Johnson are the only lettermen eligible this year. Nordlund, Grettler, Nelson, Padur, G. Johnson, and J. Johnston have been turning in good performances.

J. Kent, B. Sewell, K. Johnson, H. Sizer, manager.

Tennis

WITH Joe Kent and Kenny Johnson the only lettermen left who are eligible for competition this year, Coach Heinie Sielk will have to depend on comparatively inexperienced players to fill out Lincoln's tennis ranks this spring.

At first glance indications would suggest that an unsuccessful season is in store for the racquet wielders, but some good material has been found in Bill Sewell, Dick Ack, Don Payne, Dave Cushing, Walter Geehan, and Bud Bader. These being steadied by the two veterans, a good season should result. Manager Harl Sizer has been kept busy arranging matches for the Railsplitters with such teams as Stadium, St. Martin's, Puyallup, Olympia, and Sumner.

First Team Basketball

SUCCESS crowned the senior basketball team in the annual interclass competition for this season. Although the sophomore A's and B's fell before the onslaught of the upperclassmen, there was plenty of competition for first place from the fast junior quintet. Each of the two sophomore teams fought hard to keep the other at the bottom of the league, resulting in a very fast game.

To put a finishing touch to the basketball season, a game was scheduled between the alumni and an all-star team chosen from the senior, junior, and two sophomore aggregations. The all-stars were leading until the last quarter when the ex-Lincolnites tightened up, defeating their opponents, 42-38.

Second Team Basketball

ANOTHER basketball championship went to the seniors, but this time to the second team. The squad, which was composed of Captain Alice Vosburgh, Margaret Rakos, Bonnie Simeral, Nancy Shotwell, Marynorris Wood, Verne Vojta, Fay Muridge, Eunice Trobridge, and Ione Madsen, successfully defeated one junior and two sophomore teams.

Row 3—O. Moe, A. Cook, J. Simeral, M. Kliese, G. Wagner, F. Kennedy, H. Barna, M. Barber, E. Hansen, R. Ohlenkamp, A. Hazen, L. Newton, E. Carr, A. Douglas, B. Evanson, L. Scott, L. Visser, E. Captain Ball

First Team—Captain ball celebrated its third year at Lincoln with some very interesting and fast games. Championship honors for this fall sport were won by the seniors who easily swamped the two sophomore teams and took a hard-fought battle from the juniors. Second in line for the title was the sophomore A team, which defeated the juniors and sophomore B's and lost only to the upperclassmen.

Although this game is still quite new to the Lincoln girls, it seems to be steadily gaining in popularity. The captain ball season which precedes basketball begins during the month of September. Since a basketball is used in the game, it gives the girls more practice in handling the ball and prepares them for their next sport.

Second Team Captain Ball

By winning two games and tying one, the sophomore B Golds received the title honor for the second division. The members of this team were Vera Booker, Mary McKenney, Irene Billett, Ruth Moe, Margaret Hendrickson, Esther Naess, Aileen Lillyroot, Gertrude Evanger, Iris Abelson, Doris Lichte, Ingrid Sommerback, Irene Wahoviak, and Mildred Larsen.

Row 3—J. Batschi, A. Cook, J. Simeral, G. Wagner, E. Thode, W. Hodgins, P. Syverson, I. Abelson, R. Moe, R. Reda, M. Bronson, J. Williams, M. Scheibal, M. Goodman, E. Eley, J. Levenhagen. Row 2—M. Bronson, R. Chesnut, J. Benson, J. Bland, B. Simeral, E. Bubbins, J. Gordon, G. Stevens, A. Jelnich, V. Lattimer.

First Team Volley Ball

EMERGING victorious by winning three straight games, the senior girls were crowned volley ball champs for the season of 1933. The two sophomore teams, which seemed to think the juniors and seniors were supposed to win all the games, gave hardly any opposition to the upperclassmen. Although the champions remained on the long end of the score in the junior-senior game, the juniors gave them a real fight ending only two points behind their opponents in the final tally.

Instead of the usual three fifteen-point games, the tilts were played off in fifteen-minute halves. Although it seemed probable that this would bring about faster games, the contests were rather slow.

Second Team Volley Ball

THE Sophomore Gold second team won the championship of its division by defeating the senior, junior, and Sophomore Black teams. Girls who composed the winning aggregation were Evelyn Carlson, Betty Schaad, Margaret Galbraith, Evelyn Malon, Doris Lichte, Dorothy Sousa, Eleanor Winge, Virginia Brown, and Edith MacRule. Avys Douglas, Mary McKenny, and Helen Pannek were substitutes.

Row 3—F. Kennedy, R. Chesnut, E. Thode, W. Marszevski, L. Weiler, B. Carmichael, L. Reichmuth, B. Gibson, E. Butchcoe, J. Gordon. Row 2—S. Moe, J. Staples, H. Scott, C. Kimball, M. Barber, L. Baseball

First Team—Baseball for the season of 1932 saw plenty of active competition from all of the four class teams. After playing off the regular schedule, two extra games were played in order to decide the title holders, the juniors finally coming out uppermost. The three upper-class squads had each annexed two games, resulting in the extra two-game schedule.

Although the sophomore B's lost every game played, they showed that they had plenty of spirit since they lost to the champions by but a one-point margin.

Second Team Baseball

Keeping up with their classmates, the junior second team annexed the championship title of its division. The winning nine was composed of Marynorris Wood, Juanita Bland, Bonnie Simeral, Dorothy Panter, Jeannie Gordon, Evelyn Bubbins, Doris Stevens, Ann Dahl, Jennie Strbick, Alice O'Connor, Lucille Palo, Eunice Ratcliffe, Jessie Straight, Esther Willner, and Verna Vojta.

In spite of the fact that the champions won every game quite easily, the other three teams enthusiastically demonstrated that Lincoln fights.

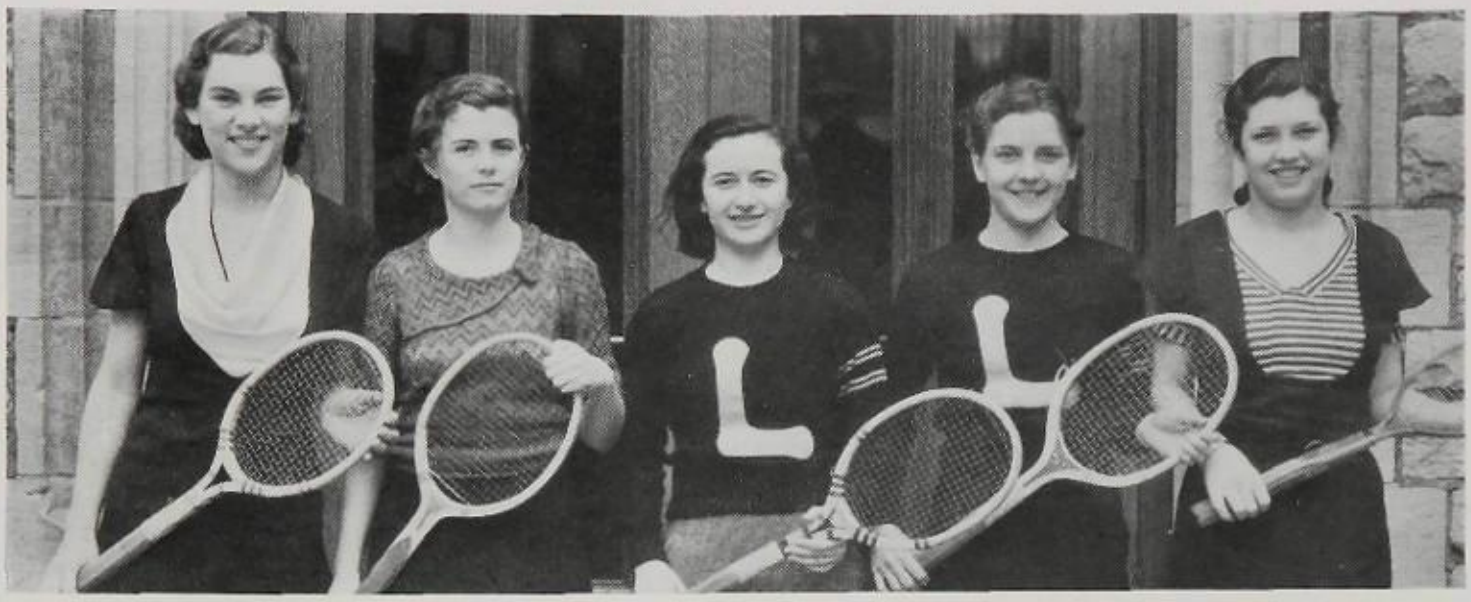
Swimming

On your mark! Get set! Go! And away went the seniors to win first place in seven out of the eight swimming events, scoring 36 points to their nearest opponents', the juniors, 15½.

The events which the upperclassmen won were the 50-yard free-style, American crawl (form), bookworm race, 50-yard back crawl, medley race, diving, and relay race. The back crawl for form was tied by Marynorris Wood, junior, and Iris Deacon, sophomore A.

All in all, the swimming season was a success.



B. Carmichael, P. Decker, G. Stevens, V. Siejak, C. Kimball.

Tennis

CHAMPIONSHIP for the first team singles in tennis was awarded Betty Carmichael, who won both her matches, one of which was by default. The title-holders for doubles were Gertie Stevens and Verna Siejak, juniors. Although the girls won their matches, they had to fight hard to win from the two seniors, Winifred Sommers and Grace Anderson.

The seniors were champions in both singles and doubles in the second team league. Dolores Bader played singles while the doubles was represented by Mary Mozel and Lois Weiler. All of the matches were won quite easily by the seniors.

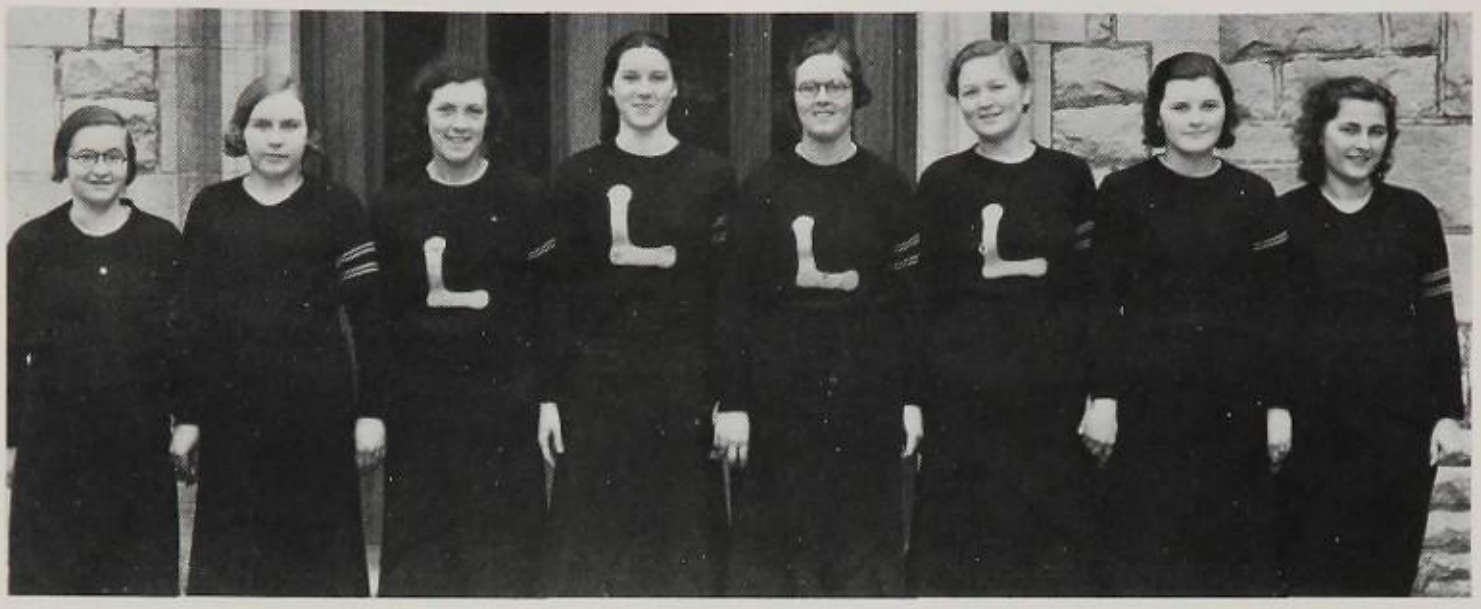
Student Leaders and Coaches

STUDENT leaders were organized three years ago when Miss Helen Clarke first came to teach at Lincoln. These girls, as instructors in tennis, golf, dancing, or swimming, assist Miss Clarke with her gymnasium classes. The experience gained as physical education teachers is valuable inasmuch as it aids them in their own playing and in leadership.

Only those girls who have earned at least one letter in athletics are eligible to coach after-school sports. A coach is expected to know the rules of the game she is coaching; be able to enforce these rules; and, with the assistance of Miss Clarke, choose the teams.



M. Chicovich, E. Trobridge, R. Burleson, R. Chesnut, B. Simeral, S. Moe, D. Panter, M. Rakos.

Honor Group

In order that the girl athletes of Lincoln could be given more recognition, the student council voted that eight girls be chosen each year by the physical education teacher and a group picture taken of them which would later be framed and hung in the council room.

Sportsmanship, athletic ability, womanliness, and scholarship are the main points considered when this group is being chosen. Besides these qualifications a member must be a steady and reliable worker, ready to do her utmost to promote girls' athletics at Lincoln to the highest degree. This year's group will be the second to be hung in the council room.

Takolah

ALTHOUGH no longer a school organization, Takolah, a branch of the Girl Reserves and Y. W. C. A., has retained its position, being yet one of the outstanding girls' clubs at Lincoln. It has approximately one hundred fifty members. To find and give the best is the group's purpose and the aim of each individual is to face life squarely. The Girl Reserve symbol is the triangle within a circle. The triangle pictures three sides of a growing personality—body, mind, and spirit. It symbolizes their relation to each other and their dependence upon each other.

Many social, service, and spiritual activities were held during the year. Among these, the two most outstanding of the spring semester were the Tolo Dance at the Weyerhaeuser Hall and the entertainment in April honoring the national president, also held at the Y. W. C. A.

Honor Society

THE objective of the Honor Society is three-fold—scholarship, leadership, and service among high school students. The group is affiliated with the National Torch Society and has a comparatively large and active membership which indicates the trend towards scholarship and leadership. The club advisers are Miss Stella Lilly, Mrs. Scott, and Mr. Orr.

Camera Club

THE Camera Club was reorganized in February under the supervision of Miss Prudentia Gowell and has a membership of fifty students. To teach the taking and developing of good pictures and the tinting of photographs is the objective of the group. Several photographers addressed the club during the last semester and "color" was the most extensive topic of their discussions.

Row 3—Miss Gowell, I. Zisk, N. Friend, D. Wallin, L. Jones, E. Larsen, C. Ruken, H. Gaucher, H. Golding, O. Grove, I. Seymour, J. VanSlyke, J. Ryncarz, M. Henson, P. Desmond, C. Cardno, G. Boys' Rifle Club

LINCOLN High School should be proud of this group which participated and rated well in various city, state, and national matches; and which has as members two Ninth Area Northwest Champions, Chet Paulson and George Hamill. The president, Karl Bielser, was qualified as a distinguished rifleman by the National Rifle Association and placed seventh among one hundred sixty-three entries in the Individual Scholastic Championship Match. Mr. Sizer is the adviser.

Girls' Rifle Club

THE Girl's Rifle Club is a branch of the Junior Division of the National Rifle Association. Karl Bielser, president of the boys' group, has been the instructor for the past semester. Mr. O'Neel is the adviser.

The club meets on Monday evenings in the girls' gym. A backstop, mats, and four guns are used in the practices.

Row 2—M. Larsen, H. Woodward, L. Skyhawk, M. Ellis, J. Johanson, J. Macauley, H. Pannek, E. Schumock, B. Barclay, B. Keller, H. Clother, V. Hansen, M. Good, L. Phelps. Row 1—D. Baker, D. Winge, O. Shevland, J. Gilliam, F. Keizer (sec.-treas.).

French Club

FRENCH games, French songs, French stories—practically everything which this group does is carried out in the French language.

At the meetings, which are held every two weeks, games are played and recitations and skits are presented by the members. Slides of France are shown with the club camera. Mrs. Messelin is adviser.

Aviation Club

IT is the intent of this organization to promote interest in aviation and its developments. During the last semester the theory of flight in the Cadet System ground school course on aerodynamics has been studied by the members. Mr. Carlson is the adviser.

Row 2—Mr. Carlson, A. Laba, G. Neumann, R. Kurpieski, H. Post, L. Dickson, H. King, A. Duncan, I. Erickson, E. Hunsberger, L. Yuckert, R. Magill. Row 1—J. Sibley, M. Bryant, P. Davis, H. Knights of Lincoln

BELIEVING in justice and equality, protection of the weak, and that right makes might, the honorary club members known as Knights of Lincoln serve the students by spreading good influence and friendliness among them. The decorating of the halls at Christmas time and a Mother and Son's Tea were included in the year's numerous events.

Miss Liddell, Principal Meddins, Mr. Hopkins, and Mr. O'Neel are the faculty advisers of the Knights.

Hi-Y

THE purpose of this group, a branch of the Y. M. C. A., is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character.

The members aided in organizing the Federated Hi-Y Clubs of Pierce County and were hosts to the federations when the constitution was adopted. Mr. Patchin, Mr. Swarm, and Principal Meddins are the advisers.

Row 3—D. Payne, M. Robinson, H. Blaisdell, Mr. Patchin, V. Honeywell, B. Jepsen, B. Sulser, W. Potocek. Row 2—B. Anderson, J. Dawkins, E. Dickson, D. Dews, R. Johnson, K. Johnson, J. Kent, E. Row 2—M. Sines (vice pres.), Miss Mantz (phys. act. adviser), Miss Whitney (general adv.), Miss Moyer (social adv.), Miss Rummel (service adv.), M. Strandberg (rec. sec.). Row 1—T. Daniels (pres.), L. Huff (service dept.), I. Madsen (social dept.), J. Benson (phys. act. dept.), I. Deacon (treas.), D. Clark (corr. sec.).

Girls' Club

THE purpose of the Girls' Club is to provide opportunity for every girl at Lincoln to become an active part of school life. Miss Whitney is the general adviser.

The club is divided into the physical activities, the social, and the service departments, and has a representative council consisting of one girl from each registry room.

L. L. L.

PROUDLY do the girls known as Lincoln Letter Lassies wear their black sweaters with yellow L's. The requisite for a girl's membership to this group, which is now under the Physical Activities Department of the Girls' Club, is the making of four teams in after-school sports. The club's aim is to promote interest in girls' athletics. The faculty advisers of the Lassies are Miss Mantz and Miss Clarke.

Row 3—T. Kennedy, B. Gibson, K. Bronson, L. Newton, E. Carr, H. Davies, E. Bubbins, E. Butchcoe, M. Rakos, M. Wood, V. Hansen, W. Marszevski, J. Strbick, E. Thode, M. Hodgins, E. Trobridge, M. Dramatic Club

AFTER non-existence for a semester Lincoln's Dramatic Club was again instituted in January, having, as its major feature, short play productions coached by members and presented within a three-week limit. The purpose of the organization is to bring out any theatrical talent a member may have. Coaches for the plays are selected by the adviser, Miss Lingenfelter.

International Club

FIFTY Lincoln boys and girls comprise the membership of this club, the purpose of which is to promote interest in foreign countries and their affairs. The most outstanding activity of the year was an assembly and party honoring the leader and the nine "Wandervogel" boys who are a branch of the German youth movement. Miss Chesney is the adviser.

Row 3—P. Desmond, C. Cardno, C. Rukan, E. Hayes, W. Whitney, E. Rukan, E. Jordan, E. McCabe, B. Brewer, E. Hynes, V. Morris, M. Henson, D. Holloway, H. Golding, O. Grove. Row 2—M. Davis, N. Goetzka, B. Williams, M. Archer. Row 1—O. McOmber (sec.-treas.), H. Rockafellow (vice pres.), H. Benjamin, M. Bain (mgr.), H. Archer, R. Sharp (pres.), F. Townsend.

Boxing Club

In a room in the boys' gym, equipped with light and heavy punching bags and other implements, boxing is taught every afternoon to all boys interested in the sport. This is directed by Mr. Walker. Business meetings of the group are held on Monday.

Finned "L"

Lincoln's Finned "L" Club is made up entirely of boys who qualify satisfactorily in one, at least, of the following ways: as a previous member, as an instructor or director of a swimming class, as an expert swimming badge winner, or as a member of the swimming team. With Mr. O'Neel as adviser, the club is trying out this year a new plan of uniting with the boys' swimming team.

Boys' Club

THIS organization, parallel to the Girls' Club, was formed about two months ago for the purpose of encouraging more boys to participate in the school activities, to develop a greater spirit of service, and to extend co-operation with other school clubs. Each member was given an opportunity to join one of the three departments—physical activities, social, or service.

Mr. O'Neel is the general adviser and also directs the physical activities group; Mr. Wagley is service adviser; and Mr. Walker, social adviser. Temporary officers served until the close of the school year.

Girl Scouts

LINCOLN'S members of the National Girl Scout Organization, affiliated with the International Organization, have had for their leaders during the past year Jean Sandlin, president; Analie Duncan, scribe; Jean Armour and Mary Roberta Brown, patrol leaders.

Individual badge work was carried on at the Monday meetings. Among the outstanding activities of the club were the caring for a needy family at Christmas and the displaying of work for various proficiency badges on Back-to-School Night. A pot-luck dinner and a waffle party were two of the social events of the year.

Quill and Scroll

THE activities of this journalistic group feature annual participation in national contests. In the 1932-33 Quill and Scroll contest a higher average was won by Lincoln's partakers than was received by any other school in the nation. Chandler Jones placed third in the nation in advertisement writing, Carl Person won fifth place on the Pacific Coast in feature writing, and Walter Sands rated first on the coast in the vocabulary test.

Mr. Post, newswriting instructor, is the adviser; Chandler Jones, president; Gilbert Wojahn, vice president; Carl Person, secretary-treasurer.

Print Club

THE Print Club is an organization which was formed one year ago by boys of the Lincoln Press and to which girls also are admitted. In the Tuesday afternoon meetings of the group, when the members are allowed to use the shop equipment, they learn how to set type and run the school press. Signs, personal cards, and tickets are printed; and the students are of service to the school by doing work for the teachers.

Mr. Chryst is the adviser; and the spring semester officers are Charles Fenn, president; Everett Haislip, vice president; and Wava Trent, secretary and treasurer.

Archery Club

MEMBERS of this club find archery one of the cleanest, best, and most enjoyable of sports. The meetings are held every Tuesday night in the boys' gym; and, when the weather permits, the group has outdoor shots and clout shooting.

A former president of the Tacoma Archery Club assisted the beginners during this last semester and told the members about the fine points of the sport. Miss Opgenorth is the adviser; and officers are Eddie Antush, president; Don Burt, vice president; Ruth Ballard, secretary-treasurer; and Bill Sulser, range captain.

Radio Club

STATION W7ALF has been definitely established at Lincoln and a house-warming was held in honor of the newly installed transmitter. Five members have been assisted in acquiring their amateur licenses to operate; others were directed towards that goal. The code and theory classes also proved popular, making a very successful year for the Radio Club.

Seven amateur operators and twenty-five others interested in radio comprise the membership. The last presiding officers were Hilmer Lindahl, president; Wayne Bullock, vice president; and Lawrence Pratico, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Chryst is the adviser.

Tuna Club

A GIRLS' swimming group, named Tuna Club with the members called "Chickens of the Sea", was formed in January with Miss Clarke, adviser, and Bill Carr as instructor.

The members improve their knowledge of swimming, diving, and life saving; and the club aims to produce efficient leaders who will qualify as student directors.

The girls chosen as first officers of this new organization were Ann Dahl, president; Charlotte Hartman, vice president; and Betty Gibson, secretary-treasurer.

A tree that may in summer wear
A nest of robins in her hair;

Upon whose bosom snow has lain;
Who intimately lives with rain.

Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.

SCHOOL LIFE

1—"A way to a man's heart—"

2—Boys experiment on the switch board.

3—Convenient to make your own clothes these days.

4—A handy man is truly an asset.

5—With all that help, something ought to be accomplished.

6—Study hall—so quiet you could hear a pin drop?

7—Hot from the press!

8—Our stage crew demonstrating their industry.

9—Santa's Twins.

10—The school historians compare scrapbooks.

11—Radio Shop—"Quick, I've got something!"

12—Come on, Dick! Make this one a record-breaker.

13—Wednesday night and all copy due!

14—Yell leaders.

1—Bea Barclay in the lunchroom — Here's one girl who's not reducing, anyway!

2—The trophy case—and how we thrill at its contents!

3—In the power plant—Mr. Gordon at work to control the temperature of the rooms.

4—Attendance room in the morning—Looks like a breadline!

5—Founder's day at the P. T. A.

6—They're hungry! Believe it or not.

7—The P. T. A. depicts the first P. T. A. meeting ever held.

8—Patches, our beloved mascot.

9—"Please report to room 116."

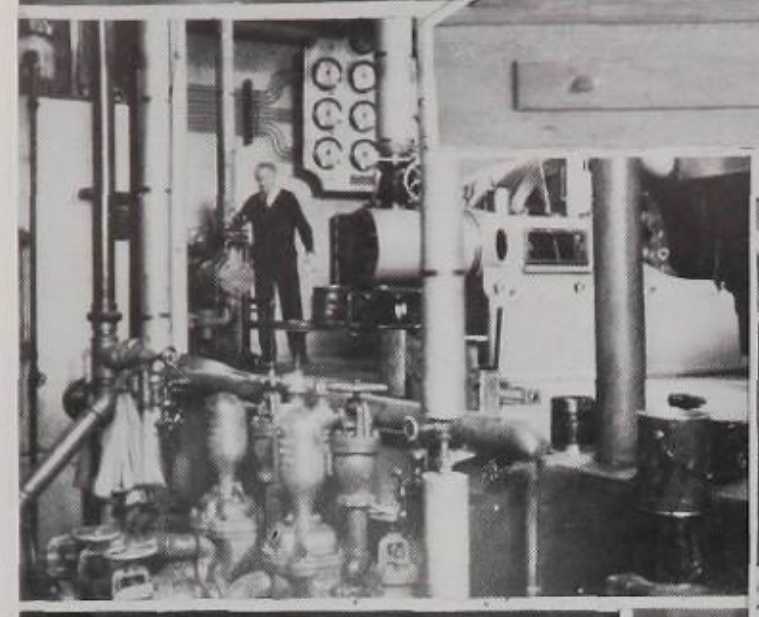
10—Don Burt gets some attention in the Red Cross room.

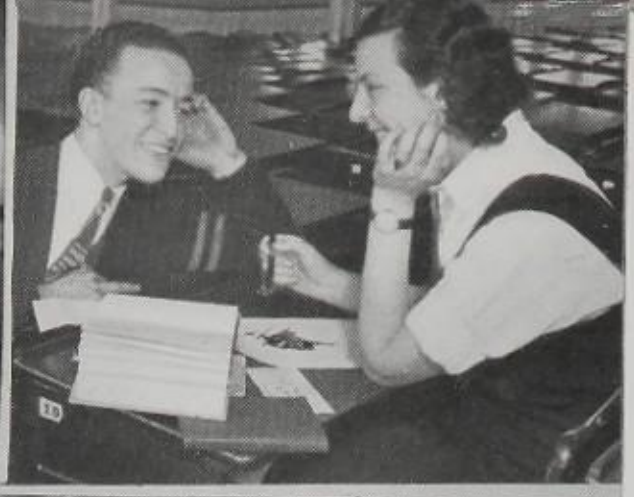
11—Evidently some people have a sweet tooth.

12—Lunchtime—"now to fill that emptiness within me."

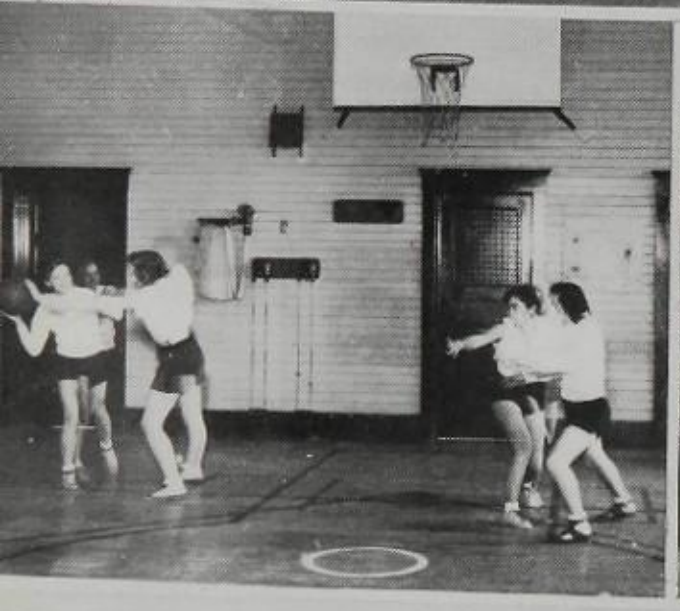
13—School's out—Home to study till bedtime? We wonder.

14—Charles Fenn at work in the Print Shop.



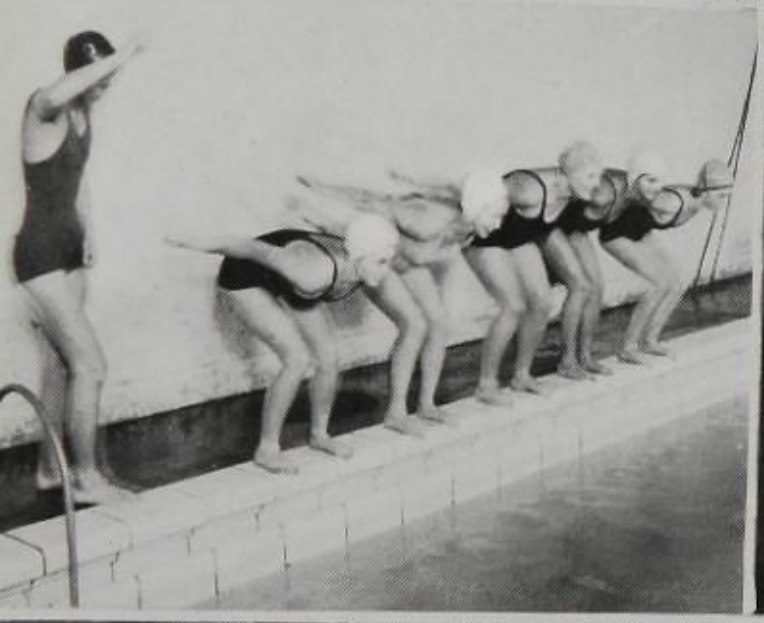


1—A sophomore gymnasium class—Attention, boys!



2—Oh! Oh! Now look what's happened to your lesson!

3—No fainting females here, but sturdy products of after school sports.



4—Homeward bound after a hard day of dodging work!

5—"Last one over is a nigger baby!"

6—Margie buys school tickets. "Thanks, Harold."

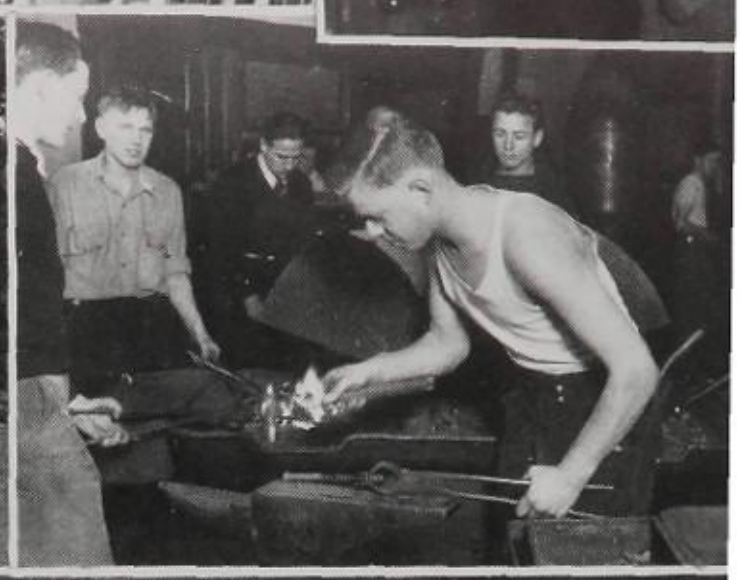
7—Our heroes depart for a football battle with Yakima.

8—Webster little realized the uses to which his dictionary would be put.

9—Lincoln in the posture parade—At the "U. of W." they looked twice — and who wouldn't?

1—Mr. Nessen's forestry class learns the why's and wherefore's.

2—Mr. Hoat's stockroom—grand place for finding things to take apart.



3—Forestry classes get first-hand information in Lincoln Park.

4—Metal Shop or a scene from "The Village Blacksmith?"

5—Art is most absorbing.

6—"So this is Chemistry!"

7—What makes the wheels go round?

8—Just a daily grind in the machine shop.

9—Aspirants after knowledge.

10—It's laboratory day in Physics.

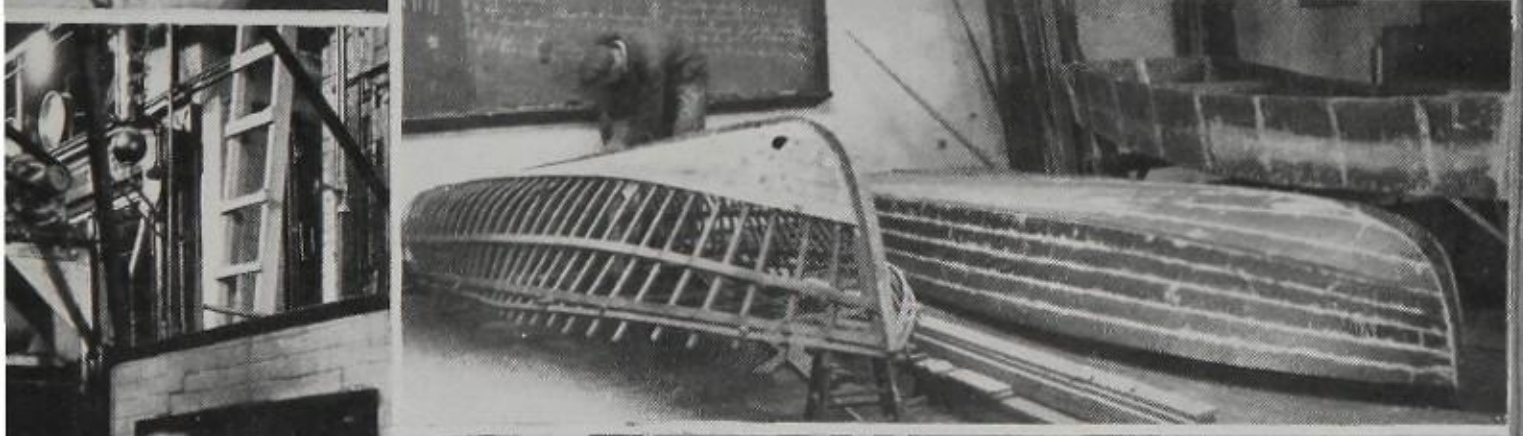
11—Sure to be "somebody's stenog" some day.

12—Doing their stuff.

1—Fire drill—2 minutes 12 seconds — semester's best record.

2—"Send Stan Paddock to the office, please."

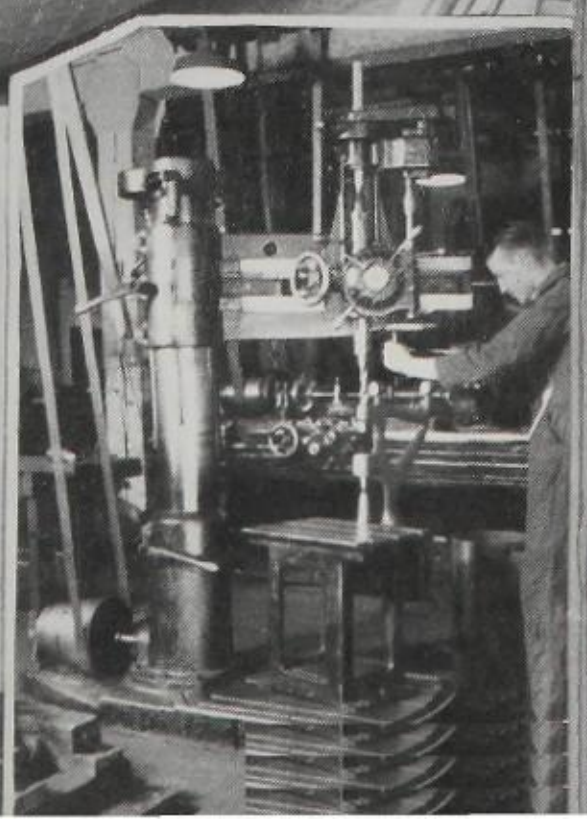
3—A dainty display in the showcase.



4—Mr. Gordon sends more heat into Lincoln halls.

5—Boat-making in the woodshop—before—

6—And after.



7—Second hall during lunchtime — little social gathering.

8—Neil McBeath shows how it's done.

"If you keep your nose on the grindstone rough
And keep it down there long enough,
You'll soon forget there are such things
As brooks that bubble and birds that sing;
And, for you, your whole world will compose
Just you—and the stone—and your poor old nose."
